

Raffael Michels

Growth Ops / Data Analyst · Criciúma, Santa Catarina, Brazil (UTC-3) · raffaelarcego@gmail.com ·
linkedin.com/in/raffaelmichels

CRICIÚMA, SANTA CATARINA, BRAZIL

Dear Hiring Team,

I work with data and growth marketing operations in SaaS. My work comes down to one sentence: making sure the right data reaches the right person, in the right shape, before the decision is made — with as little friction as possible along the way.

At Nextfit, a management SaaS for fitness businesses, I started in technical support and customer success, moved into data analysis — processing information, producing reports, and surfacing insights for strategic decisions — and today I work as Growth Ops / Data Analyst, connecting data, automation, and strategy so the growth team operates with agility, less friction, and clarity on the data that truly matters. Before that, at Tecnnic, I worked in assembly and test inspection of embedded electronic systems, where I learned the rigor of ensuring quality at every step of the process.

I am looking for an environment where analysis takes part in the decision rather than merely documenting it. I am pursuing a B.Sc. in Software Engineering, write clearly in English and Portuguese, and would rather ship early and iterate than wait for the perfect analysis. Being based in Brazil (UTC-3), my working hours overlap almost entirely with US Eastern time, and I am used to async collaboration.

Thank you for your consideration. I would welcome the chance to talk.

Raffael Michels

raffaelarcego@gmail.com · linkedin.com/in/raffaelmichels